CHICKASAW LEGISLATURE READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Tishomingo, I. T., Jan. 22.—With the rare forethought and the political acumen that characterizes the educated Indian, Governor D. H. Johnson, last governor of the Chickasaws, and his legislature are holding open their last legal session to meet any emergency that may arise in the last moments of the nation's life. The law provides that this legislature shall meet at a certain time and that it may draw pay for a certain number of days. It does not prevent a recess being taken, the legislature to be reassembled at any time; however, so when the last session was called, the important business was rushed through and the legislature took a recess to await developments.

The wisdom of that move is now apparent. After stating to congress what the nation wants, the Chickasaws are waiting to see what they may get, and ready officially to endorse or to remonstrate at any time. Again the constitutional convention of the new state, of which the Chickasaw nation is a very large portion, is now in session and the legislature has agreed to sell the coal lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations to the state for $12,000,000. By being in readiness the legislature can meet to amend or submit a new proposition at any time. The Chickasaws are fearful that the government will take possession of their magnificent properties and rob them after the Chickasaw legislature is no more, and they guard jealously their rapidly diminishing power.

DEMOCRATIC ORATORY AT THE OPERA HOUSE

According to the appointment made, Hon. D. H. Linebaugh of Atoka, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Fourth District, addressed the voters of this community Monday night at the opera house.

He was greeted by a good and attentive audience.

The speaker, as he in masterful manner discussed the issues of the day, was given close attention and at times his hearers were quite demonstrative in their endorsement of his sentiments.

In a most forcible way Mr. Linebaugh elaborated the platform on which he submits his claims to Democracy's arbitration, and of which the following is a synopsis:

An effective rate bill and the proper regulation of corporations, and abolishment of the free pass evil, and favor declaring all contracts illegal that have the effect of removing manufactured products from the operation of the wholesome laws of normal supply and demand, either as their use and price, or of protection them from free competition in the open markets of the world.

The arbitration of differences between labor and capital and a strict enforcement of the eight hour law on all government work.

The improvement of our water ways, and where practicable, the appropriation by Congress of such funds as may be necessary to make the streams in, and bordering on, this district, navigable.

Publicity in all campaign contributions, and the enactment of laws punishing with imprisonment officers and agents of corporations who are convicted of using corporate funds for political purposes.

A tariff for revenue only.

The removal of all restrictions upon the alienation of all allotments of adult allottees, except upon the homestead of Indians by blood; The sale of all surplus allotments to actual settlers in tracts not exceeding 160 acres to any one purchaser; The speedy adjustment of all affairs in the country over which the Interior Department has control; the payment of all money to the Indian people in one payment; a graduated income and inheritance tax.

Unalterable opposition to a government by injunction; to every form of extravagance in the expenditure of public funds; to the imperialistic policy of the Republican party and to all arbitrary rules promulgated by any department of the government being enforced against any person without first giving to that person a right to be heard."

Mr. Linebaugh believes that a public office is a public trust and that he who fills it is a servant of the people.

The speaker concluded with a beautiful tribute to the women of the land.

At the conclusion of Mr. Linebaugh's speech there were vociferous calls for Judge Henry M. Furman, who was in the audience. The judge responded with a short address, replete with wit and wisdom, such scarcely anyone except Judge Furman is capable of in an impromptu effort.

The occasion was delightful and edifying throughout.

U. S. COURT GRIND

Ord Rich, Rape Case Case Is Now On Trial

Tuesday forenoon the U. S. court was engaged in a jury trial of an appealed condemnation suit wherein Mrs. W. E. Little of Stonewall is plaintiff and the M. K. & T. Ry. is defendant. The jury is still out.

In the afternoon the Ord Rich rape case was taken up, and several hours were spent in an unsuccessful attempt to qualify sufficient jurors. Out of the entire panel only one was chosen. Rich stands charged with having about a year and a half ago raped a woman named Mrs. Emily Latta, since deceased.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Irby and U. S. Commissioner T. N. Robinett of Ardmore are here as witnesses in the Ord Rich case.

Memorial Adopted.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 21.—The convention today passed the memorial to Congress which is official notice that the State wishes to purchase the segregated mineral lands of the Choctaws and Chickasaws.

A provision was inserted that the memorial shall not be construed to oppose the sale of the surface separate from the minerals. It is understood here the Indians oppose separating the propositions, whereas, those renters interested in the surface lands are urging some method by which they may acquire homesteads. The convention has remained neutral in the situation.

WEAVER WANTS PROTECTION AGAINST LAND MONOPOLY

Guthrie, Jan. 22.—Delegate Weaver of Ada has asked the constitutional convention to adopt a memorial to congress covering the report of the Clark Senatorial committee, which report recommends the removal of restrictions upon the surplus lands of the Indian, and is designed to prevent speculators from controlling large areas of the land so made available for market.

The memorial recites that a great amount of the land is at present controlled by land companies and speculators under the obnoxious lease system, and unless prohibited by congress the combination referred to will create a land monopoly.

Mr. Weaver states the combinations abounding around Ada stand ready to purchase the land now leased as soon as the Indian is permitted to alienate his surplus. The memorial asks congress to restrict the sale of alienated lands so as to prohibit land or lease monopolies by permitting only actual persons to become purchasers or lessees and then only in such limited amounts as will guarantee a broad and equitable distribution of the property.—Dallas News.

WEAVERS MEMORIAL

To the congress of the United States
To the President Theodore Roosevelt.
Whereas, the special senate committee on Indian affairs has recommended the removal of the restrictions upon the alienation of surplus allotments and other lands in the Indian Territory, and

Whereas, the material interest of all the people of the Indian Territory as well as the state at large, depend upon broad and equitable distribution of the landed interest, and,

Whereas, a great amount of said lands are at present controlled by land companies and speculators, under obnoxious lease system, and,

Whereas, unless prohibited by the congress, said land companies and speculators will gain control of a vast amount of Indian lands, which will result in large holdings and land monopolies.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the representatives of the people of the Indian Territory, in convention assembled, do respectfully pray that the sale of alienated lands be restricted so as to prohibit land or lease monopolies, and to permit any natural persons to become purchasers or lessees thereof, and then only of such limited amounts as will guarantee a broad and equitable distribution.

Resolved that a copy of this memorial be forwarded to both houses of congress and the president of the United States.

TWO CENTS MAXIMUM FOR RAILROADS ADOPTED

Guthrie, Jan. 22.—The maximum 2c passenger fare on railroads, exclusive of street cars and interurban lines, was yesterday adopted by the convention as a part of the Oklahoma constitution.

An amendment was offered by delegate Ledbetter of Ardmore, and fought through to adoption, giving power to the Railroad commission to exempt from the provisions and operation any road which satisfactorily shows it can not earn a reasonable income upon the money actually invested, if not permitted to charge more than 2c per mile passenger fare.

This amendment, at least, saves the provision from conflict with the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution, and places the ultimate regulation of passenger rates up to the commission. This was the contention of many of the delegates, some of whom opposed any provision of this character in the constitution.

Delegate Williams of Durant, in defending the committee report which proposed a straight maximum rate of 2c per mile on all roads of the state, proposed to have the provision submitted separately with the constitution as the question involved was largely legislative.

He referred to the bill recently introduced in the Texas legislature by Judge Robertson of Austin for 2 1/2 cent per mile, and afforded the statement that the railroads of Texas were not as a whole in the flush condition of those of the two territories. The question of a reduced passenger fare is now under consideration in seven states.

The sense of the committee was largely in favor of a total abolition of railroad passes and gave evidence of supporting the Sequoyah idea as expressed in that constitution. While the provision was passed without a roll call, the vote was almost unanimous.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

Agricultural Exports.

The calendar year is closing with every indication that the remarkable volume of exports will remain at the flood. A bulletin from the bureau of statistics at Washington is testimony to this effect. The bulletin deals with the exports of domestic breadstuffs, meat and dairy products, food animals, cotton and mineral oils for November and for the 11 months of the present year ended with November. The total of these exports for November was $105,311,000 against $99,341,000 in 1905, and for the 11 months $788,257,000 compared with $703,569,000 last year. The December returns are not likely to show any relative decrease, and the entire year is fairly certain to show a large advance over last. Several features of the bulletin showing command special interest. Though there was something of a falling off in this class of exports for the month, our shipments abroad of meat and dairy products and of food cattle were $208,979,000 in 1906, or more than $20,000,000 in excess of these of the same 11 months of 1905. Legislation by congress and the steps taken by the administration in accordance therewith, aiming at safeguarding the purity of the output, have increased foreign confidence. The figures are of value as proving that while we sell abroad less barley, oats and corn, we are disposing in large quantity of what may be called the finished products from such raw material. The Americans are feeding more of the grain to live stock and selling more cattle and meat to the old world. This is really an economic advantage, as finding a market for the higher valued product always is. The bulletin accentuates the predominance of this country as a source of food supply, while the complete returns are pretty certain to prove that it has been a big year for exports of manufactures also.

Poland's Pitiable Condition.

The situation of Poland to-day is pitiable. Business in Warsaw has fallen off 50 per cent. and more; the fashionable boulevards are partly deserted; the restaurants are but half filled, and the leading hotel is running at a loss. The city swarms with troops, but martial law brings only oppression, not security. Hardly a day passes but officials are killed or wounded by the terrorists, while suspected persons are arrested, clubbed or shot to death by the authorities. The terrorists are strong enough to defy the government, while the government is strong enough to crush a general revolt, and the result is anarchy. When it will end no one can tell. But some day, says G. H. Blakeslee in the Outlook, peace will surely come, for Poland is to have autonomy. The Poles demand it. The great majority of the Russian Duma has promised it, and Russian liberalism must eventually win.

Romance of Motor Travel.

The motor car has rescued the romance of travel, freeing it from the irritating compulsions and contacts of the railway, the bondage to fixed hours and the beaten track and approach to each town through the area of ugliness and desolation created by the railway itself. With the motor, says Edith Wharton, in Atlantic, we have regained the wonder, the adventure and the novelty which enlivened the way of our posting grandparents; above all, the delight of taking a town unawares, stealing on it by back ways and unchronicled paths, surprising in it some intimate aspect of past time, some silhouette hidden for half a century or more by the ugly mask of railway embankments and the glass and iron bulk of a huge station. Then the villages that one missed and yearned for from the windows of the train—the villages have been given back to us.

Mexico winds up its year with a remarkably satisfactory financial showing. She reports exports of $271,000,000, an increase of nearly $63,000,000 over the preceding year, and imports of $220,651,000, a gain of over $42,000,000. But what is still better is the advance along all the lines of domestic development. Mexico is literally living in peace and plenty, with the most efficient of governments under the wise directing hand of President Diaz. The day of upheavals and factional disorders, resulting in general demoralization, seems to be past forever. Mexico has learned the secret of wise self-government.

London newspapers are paying splendid compliments to the kind of ambassador America has sent to the mother country when they demand that the government send to Washington a man like James Russell Lowell, Joseph H. Choate or Whitelaw Reid to represent British interests. They seem to think the need of the times is an ambassador from the British to the American nation rather than an envoy of the British government to do business with the American state department.

"ORIGINAL EGG-EATING KID."

Joseph Wigge Defies All Missouri to Equal His Record.

St. Louis.—St. Louis has a man who can eat 25 raw eggs in 60 seconds, and is a famous player of harmonicas. His name is Joseph Wigge. Until recently he has hidden his light under an egg case. Suddenly he recognized the fact that he was great.

So, in order to tell a sporting editor of his varied and vigorous virtues, he sent around a note. Here's the very note, and this is what he wrote:

"Dear Sir: Mr. Joseph Wigge, who is known as the Missouri original egg-eating kid. Mr. Joseph Wigge holds the title at present as the champion raw egg eater of Missouri. Joe Wigge issues an open challenge to all comers for a purse of $25 to $100 a side bet, that he can put away more raw eggs than any man of his size in Missouri, and every egg that he puts away is retained and swallowed with great relish and without exertion. "Joe is 24 years of age, and is five feet nine inches in height, and 170 pounds in weight, of athletic build and has a pair of lungs like a Belows. Joe Wigge's record in eating raw eggs is 25 raw eggs in 60 seconds.

"Mr. Joseph Wigge is an active member of the Benton Athletic club of St. Louis, Mo. Joe is known among his friends as the champion strong boy, and he is also known as the North St. Louis most famous mouth harmonica player; he can perform many feats and brilliant effects on the mouth harp; he can play a few specimens of his ability on the mouth harp with his nose; he can also give various imitations on a Jews harp. Joseph Wigge is well known in society circles and athletic clubs of St. Louis Mo., where his extraordinary virtues are said to be highly appreciated."

WED RICHES OR STAY SINGLE

Savant Tells College Instructors Plain Living Is Drawback.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"If you are a college professor and wish to be successful, marry a rich woman. If that is not possible, don't marry at all. If you do marry for love, and not for money, your family must be small, in keeping with your income."

These were some of the radical utterances Prof. Edward Everett Hale, Jr., of Union university, gave vent to at the opening session of the annual convention of the Association of College and Preparatory Schools, held at the Boys' high school, Broad and Green streets.

Dealing sarcastically with the subject, Prof. Edward Everett Hale said: "The present system of compulsory plain living may produce a race of professors incapable of high thinking."

"The trustees of universities think professors would grow lazy in such a Utopia as a college would be if decent salaries were paid. This is not the case. They would have a chance to take a greater interest in college life and become more valuable if they were not compelled to skimp and save and spend their time doing outside work to earn a living."

"Marry a rich wife," he said; "her means will provide you with the time, the books, the accessories of culture and the social setting you need."

"In the event of not being able to do this, a brilliant solution is not to marry at all, and if you take unto yourself a wife, it is certainly due to all concerned to have as small a family as possible."

GRINDSTONE SAVES THE DAY

In Emergency Linotype Operator Hitches It to His Machine.

Clarksville, Tenn.—An event unique in the history of newspaperdom occurred when the Leaf-Chronicle was issued by the use of a grindstone.

The electric wires furnishing power for operating a motor which was used to run the linotype machines were cut on account of the burning of a building next door, and things looked exceedingly blue for the issuance of a paper unless hand composition was resorted to. Then it was that American ingenuity came to the front.

The linotype operator observed a big grindstone downstairs, and his was the bright idea of hitching it to the linotype by a belt.

The connection was quickly made, and nothing more was needed but to hitch sufficient muscular energy to the grindstone to keep the outfit moving.

Two laborers were secured and set to this task, and the thing was done.

The queer-looking device went to work with utmost facility.

Its appetite for copy was something phenomenal, and the newsmen were aware that never before were they kept in such a rush to supply material.

SOLOMON AS A CANDIDATE.

Professor Says King's Record Would Beat Him for Office Nowadays.

Macon, Mo.—In the course of a lecture on "Honesty," Prof. W. A. Annin, superintendent of the board of public schools, said that, measured by the morals and customs of to-day, David would have been lynched or sent to the penitentiary for a long term of years.

Solomon, had he aspired to the senate or any other large representative body, would have been turned down because of his domestic life.

The speaker said, however, that it was unfair to judge those illustrious men by later-day standards, and argued that the world was progressing so rapidly toward correct ideals that before long only men of the purest honor and integrity, both in public and private life, would dare to aspire to important positions.

FARMER WILLIAMS' LESSON

In Time of Adversity He Got to Understand Who Were His Real Friends—Prosperity in Standing Together.

(Copyright, 1906, by Alfred C. Clark.) "What y' got there, Sis?" inquired Farmer Williams, as he kicked off his felt boots and set them carefully behind the stove to dry. "That's what I thought it looked like, one of them there Chicago catylogs, though I hain't seen one close for quite a few years back. Me an' your ma ust to buy mighty nigh everything we used out of them catylogs when we first come to Kansas. Land sakes, I have to laugh now sometimes when I think of the way we would git ketched on in a while. They's some cheap things in them catylogs, an' then agin they's a lot 't ain't so cheap. Y' never kin tell till they come, an' then it's too late to send 'em back. But as I was sayin', we hain't bought nothin' out of a catylog fer a right smart o' years now, an' the way it come about I had as well tell y', cause I don't think y' really remember much about it.

"When we come to Kansas long in the first of the '80's we got along right well. We was able to pay cash fer what we got, and we got the money fer everything we sold. We was payin' in' out on the place right along; crops was purty good an' we was a feelin' like the Lord was a smilin' on our efforts, and the happy home we dreamed about when we first got married was in sight.

But they come a change in Kansas long in the last half of the '80's. Times got hard and kept a gittin' tighter. Four straight years it was so dry y' had to soak the hogs afore they'd hold swill—though I will say they was some extry reason on account of the swill bein' so thin—wheat jest died in the ground fer want of rain, and the hot winds billed the everlastin' sap out of the corn. They wasn't no pasture, no nothing. You can know we was a feelin' purty blue about that time, but we was young and strong, and thought with the chickens an' hogs we could git through anyway.

"Then one day you got to complainin' an' lookin' so thin it worried us. Your ma is a middlin' good doctor, take it all around, but nothing she could think of done you any good. Well, you kep' a gittin' pindlier and pindlier, till you got so sot y' wouldn't do nothin' but set in a chair by the kitchen stove, wrapped in your ma's old shawl, an' you looked so pitiful that we made up our minds to have the doctor, even if it took th' last chicken on the place. Well, he come, and after he'd looked at you awhile an' felt your pulse, he shet his watch up with a snap, an' says, quiet like: 'Better fix up a warm place fer her in the front room, don't have too much light nor any drafts to strike her.' Then we knowed it wan't no small sickness we had to fight, an' when we got you fixed up in bed I follered Doc. out on the porch an' I says: 'Well, Doc., sez I, 'what's the matter with our little girl?'

"I don't want to skeer ye, Mr. Williams," says he, 'but I'm afraid she's in for a siege of typhoid fever.'

"Well, after he was gone I went out in the kitchen an' told your ma, but she says, brave as kin be: 'Well, Ezra, if the Lord has seen fit to put that much more on our load we must bear up an' fight it out doin' our duty the best we kin, leavin' the rest to him.' An' I thought so too. So we jest kep' our hearts brave an' done what seemed right 't do.

"The hardest thing was to figure out where t' git the medicine, an' fruit, an' dainty things your sickness called for.

"Why cert'nlee, Mr. Williams, Jest Let Us Know What You Want."

for. We hadn't been tradin' much with the stores in Huston, buyin' mostly from the catylog folks y' know, an' so we didn't have any credit there to speak of. But I went t' Foster, th' druggist, an' I told him how things was. I didn't have no money t' pay fer th' medicine an' things, an' the prospects fer the next year was as poor er poorer than th' last.

"Why cert'nlee, Mr. Williams," he says, 'jest let us know what you want an' we'll carry you along till times come better fer you. We're all in a tight pinch now, but if we hang t'gether things is all goin' to come out right in the end. I have faith in th' country, an' in the people that live here. an' nobody's sick baby is a goin' to suffer if I kin help any.'

"Well, it was the same thing at Harlow's grocery, an' th' coal yard, everywhere in th' town. 'Cert'nlee, Mr. Williams, we'll see y' through on this.' It made me feel mean an' small some way, though I don't know why. An' often when they'd put in a few oranges or somethin' like that, sayin' in a 'pologizin' sort of way, 'little somethin' fer th' sick baby, Williams,' why somehow it made a hard lump come up in my throat, an' I had a queer feelin' in my eyes, kinder achy like, y' know.

"Well, to be short about it, fer eight weeks you kep' a gittin' weaker an' weaker, an' we kep' a feelin' more 'n' more hopeless. It was a sad Christmas in our home that year. Your ma was jest wore out with watchin' an' tryin' to do her work between times, an' I was so high sick with trouble an' discouragement t' I ust to go around by the barn an' jest cry like a baby. But I never let on to your ma though. We tried t' encourage each other though we knowed in our hearts t' all our cheerful words was lies, an' each one knowed the other knowed it too.

"Well, jest th' night before New Years Doc. called us outside your room. Oh, how my heart sunk then! 'I don't want to hold out any false hopes to you people,' he says, 'but I think with proper care from now on, your little girl is goin' t' git well.'

Elsie, it seemed jest like a ton of hay had been lifted off my chest right there. As fer your ma, why she jest busted down an' cried as hard as she could. After Doc. was gone we went out to the kitchen an' kneeled down right there an' thanked God fer the most glorious New Year's gift he ever give t' anybody in th' world—the health of our baby girl. You know your pa ain't no ranter er shouter; yer ma bein' a Baptist has furnished most of th' religion fer our house, but jest then I seen how it was that they comes times in people's lives when they've jest got to have somethin' bigger an' greater than anything human t' turn to with a great joy er a great sorrow.

"Well, it was a long time yet before you was strong enough t' play out doors, an' it was a hard winter. I burned every post of the fence around the south eighty fer firewood afore it was over. But it seemed like we had so much t' be thankful fer that we was strong t' care fer any an' of th' smaller troubles that we come across.

"It really hain't so bad to look back at it now after th' trouble is over, but then hard years in Kansas drove nearly all our neighbors t' give up their land an' move away, broke in hopes an' pocketbook. Them of us as stayed is purty well fixed now, an' fit hard, too. An', O, yes, about th' catylogs. Well after you was well an' things begun t' take a turn fer th' better, one night ma brought out that Chicago book an' laid it out on the kitchen table an' says: 'Ezry, what do you want t' do with this?' An' I sez: 'Les burn it.' An' your ma sez: 'Jest what I was thinkin', too.' An' so we did burn it, an' what's more, we ain't never had one in th' house since, an' we never send away fer anything we can git at any of the stores in Huston, 'cause we want to deal with them as 'have an int'rest in the country we live in, an' in us people that live clost by.

"Why, you needn't of put yours in th' stove, too, Elsie, I didn't mean—yes, I don't know but what it's jest as well y' done it after all."

Folk Denounces Mail-Order Idea.

Addressing a meeting of retail merchants in Jefferson city recently, Governor Folk, of Missouri, said:

"We are proud of our splendid cities, and we want to increase wealth and population, and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up, but we also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do not believe in the mail-order citizen. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and to make his money in, its good enough for him to spend his money in.

"No merchant can succeed without advertising in one way or another. Patronize your town papers, build them up, and they will build the town up in increased trade and greater opportunities. Do not be afraid that business is going to be hurt by the recent exposures of wrong-doing in the commercial world."

Mixture of Many Nations.

Louis N. Parker, the dramatist, was born in France; his father was an American, his mother an English woman; his first language was Italian and he was educated in Germany.

FOR THE IDEAL PIE

TOOTHsome DELICACY THAT IS BELOVED BY ALL.

Requisites for Success Are Simple, But They Must Be Carefully Remembered—Knack of the Thing Is What Counts.

The pie belt is not restricted to New England alone. Ask the miner "baching it," in his lonely camp in the Rockies or Sierras, the soldier and sailor boys in distant posts or alien waters, the storm-stayed traveler, 20 miles from a lemon or anything else eatable, what they want most for their dinner, and ten chances to one "a big piece of mother's home-made pie" heads the list of mouth-watering possibilities.

But there are pies and pies, ranging from gutter percha crusts with vapid, tasteless interiors, to a delicate, flaky, melt-in-your-mouth pie exterior, clasp in tender embrace ambrosia.

Which are yours? Pie makers are born, but they can also be made.

The first requisite is brains, then a light, quick touch and judgment in seasoning. In the evolution of the ideal pie no great array of implements is required. Glass and marble boards are all right, but just as excellent results may be achieved with a fine hardwood molding board, a thick canvas dredged with flour or even a clean, smooth sheet of manila paper spread smoothly on an ordinary kitchen table. So also with the rolling pin. It is the touch and knack of handling that count—whether the pin be of glass, hardwood or a tail, smooth bottle.

For the shortening half butter from which the buttermilk has been well worked out, and lard that has been melted and tried out in the old-fashioned way, instead of being pressed, is considered best, though clarified drippings of beef, chicken, or pork can all be utilized.

In making the plain, every-day crust, allow for each pie one cup sifted flour (heaped), a scant half-cup shortening, a saltspoonful each salt and baking powder and cold water to mix stiff. Measure lard and butter and set in a cold place until hard. Mix flour, salt and baking powder, then cut in the lard. Wet with cold water to a stiff dough, toss on the floured board and pat down to about half an inch in thickness.

Roll out, put the butter on the paste in little dabs here and there; dredge lightly with flour; roll over and over; turn half round; pat out and roll again. Then roll over and over like a jelly roll and divide in the middle. Turn each piece over on end, so that the rings of pastry are on top, and if there is time set in the ice chest until hard and chilled. Roll to fit the plate with an inch to spare, as paste shrinks when taken from the board. Fold the crust over, lift up quickly and lay in the tin. Press down in the center so there need be no air bubbles, and let the edge of the crust come just to the edge of the plate.

Brush the rim with cold water, and if the pie is a fruit or very juicy compound, the white of an egg brushed over the under crust will prevent soaking. Roll out some of the paste into a strip a good half inch in width and place on the edge. Add the filling and wet the rim again before putting on the upper crust, which should be a little larger than the plate, and have a cut in the center to allow for the escape of steam. Press closely but lightly together and push the two crusts away from the edge of the plate, which gives them a chance to expand.

Success in Ironing Shirts.

Any of the following named substances when put into boiled starch will help to make the garment iron smoothly and take a gloss: Borax, sugar, salt, wax, lard, turpentine, spermaceti. The shirt front is starched with hot boiled starch in which there has been mixed one or more of the above ingredients. It is dried, and then dipped in thin, raw starch. After a few hours it is ironed. A thin piece of muslin is placed between the starched surface and the iron. After the shirt front has been ironed smooth it is rubbed with a damp cloth, and then polished with an iron specially made for this purpose. There must be a great deal of pressure used on the polishing iron, and practice is required to do this work well. Place a hard, smooth board under the shirt-front when polishing. Many men object to the highly-polished surface, preferring the dull one.

Hard Sauce.

Put into a warm bowl one-quarter cup butter and one-half cup powdered sugar. Mix with a wooden spoon or spatula, beating hard for 15 minutes. Flavor with one-half tablespoonful lemon, vanilla or a little nutmeg or powdered mace, as preferred, beat a little longer, pack smoothly on a small plate or pile lightly in a fancy dish, and set on the ice until very hard. A pleasing change is to add a tablespoonful currant jelly after creaming the butter and sugar, then beat light.

Diamond Window Panes.

Many people who live in the modern antique style of house find it difficult to effectually clean and polish the diamond window panes. The following method of doing so will be found to answer. Stir a little kerosene into warm water, soak a pad of newspaper in it, and squeeze almost dry; clean the pane with this, wipe with a soft cloth, and then polish with a pad of dry newspaper.

ALMOST A SOLID SORE.

Skin Disease from Birth—Fortune Spent on Her Without Benefit—Cured Her with Cuticura.

"I have a cousin in Rockingham Co., who once had a skin disease from her birth until she was six years of age. Her father had spent a fortune on her to get her cured and none of the treatments did her any good. Old Dr. G— suggested that he try the Cuticura Remedies which he did. When he commenced to use it the child was almost a solid scab. He had used it about two months and the child was well. I was there when they commenced to use your Cuticura Remedies. I stayed that week and then returned home and stayed two weeks and then went back and stayed with them two weeks longer, and when I went home I could hardly believe she was the same child. Her skin was as soft as a baby's without a scar on it. I have not seen her in seventeen years, but I have heard from her and the last time I heard from her she was well. Mrs. W. P. Ingle, Burlington, N. C., June 16, 1905."

MANY SOURCES OF SALT.

That from Natural Springs is Generally Most Nearly Pure.

The purity of salt depends upon the source from which it is obtained and the sanitary conditions under which it is prepared for the market. The supply of common salt, the most indispensable of all the seasoning substances both as a relishing condiment and a well-nigh universal food preservative, is exhaustless, yet even so there is salt and salt, says the Pictorial Review.

Formerly salt was obtained by evaporating ocean water, a process that left many impurities in the residuum, to say nothing of its exposure to all kinds of dirt in its shipment from seaports. The Turk's island or rock salt, which is still largely used in pork packing and in the manufacture of ice creams, comes to the United States in holds of vessels continually subjected to dirt and foul odors. Upon its arrival it is again handled, then packed in coarse burlap bags, permitting dust to sift into the salt. In this condition it reaches the consumer.

Latterly, however, the product of salt springs has largely taken the lead in this country not only for table salt but for meat packing. The annual production from this source in the United States reaches more than 40,000,000 bushels, the state of New York in the vicinity of Syracuse furnishing a large proportion of this important supply.

NEVER TIRES

Of the Food That Restored Her to Health.

"My food was killing me and I didn't know the cause," writes a Colo. young lady. "For two years I was thin and sickly, suffering from indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism."

"I had tried different kinds of diet, plain living, and many of the remedies recommended, but got no better."

"Finally, about five weeks ago, mother suggested that I try Grape-Nuts, and I began at once, eating it with a little cream or milk. A change for the better began at once."

"To-day I am well and am gaining weight and strength all the time. I've gained 10 lbs. in the last five weeks and do not suffer any more from indigestion and the rheumatism is all gone."

"I know it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. I still eat the food twice a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The flavor of Grape-Nuts is peculiar to itself. It is neutral, not too sweet and has an agreeable, healthful quality that never grows tiresome.

One of the sources of rheumatism is from overloading the system with acid material, the result of imperfect digestion and assimilation.

As soon as improper food is abandoned and Grape-Nuts is taken regularly, digestion is made strong, the organs do their work of building up good red blood cells and of carrying away the excess of disease-making material from the system.

The result is a certain and steady return to normal health and mental activity. "There's a reason." Read the little book "The Road to Wellville" in pages.

AN IMPORTANT CASE

Patient Cured of Ataxia Gives the Entire Credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. S. C. Wellock, of 114 Cleveland Avenue, Everett, Mass., the wife of an employee in the government works at Chelsea, says:

"I had been troubled with nervousness for ten years and the disease kept growing on me. Then I learned that I was suffering from locomotor ataxia. I had terrible tremblings in my right leg which would get rigid and when this happened in the street I had to stand still until it passed away to keep from falling. My right arm felt as if a thousand needles were pricking it. The sheet touching my knee in bed would nearly cause me to scream out with pain and both knees were so weak I could hardly stand."

"I had to use a cane and be helped about by my son. Then the pain began to settle in the calves of my legs and the muscles became numb and quivered constantly. The cords under my knees seemed to be drawn up tight and the terrible shooting pains in my legs would nearly drive me insane. My toes became numb and at times would prickle as if needles were being thrust into them. My eyes became dull and black spots floated before them. My heart was very weak."

"My attention was called to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I bought several boxes right away and soon felt relief. I was so pleased that I kept on taking them until they cured me entirely, and I have had no symptoms of the trouble for over a year."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medical Company, Schenectady, N. Y. A booklet, entitled "Nervous Disorders," sent free on request.

Most Youthful Professor.

The youngest professor in the eastern states is William T. Foster, professor of English at Bowdoin college. He supported himself from a very small child, educated himself and at the age of 17 had saved enough money to start to college, when he found that he could not enter because he had never studied Latin. He was told he must have two months till the time it was just two months till the time he had planned to enter Harvard. He was not dismayed. He sought assistance, devoted the two months to overcoming the obstacle—and in September successfully passed his examination and entered college.

Safe, Sure and Speedy.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Allcock's Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin.

Allcock's Plasters are the original and genuine porous plasters and like most meritorious articles have been extensively imitated, therefore always make sure and get the genuine.

Police Commissioner Bingham has learned one important fact that will be of aid to him in his official career. When he desires to get the exact facts about some large question that is to the front in New York city he calls in the newspaper reporters located at police headquarters and has a heart-to-heart talk. As one of them says: "He gets it straight, and so straight that not all the men of the force can fool him on that one point."

FORMALIN IN MILK.

Its Use Does Not Render the Milk Sterile.

The use of formalin or formaldehyde in milk does not render that milk sterile, as many have supposed. Formalin when combined with a certain proportion of water is called formaldehyde, and in articles and discussions is therefore practically the same, the difference being only in the strength of the solution used. Prof. F. D. Chester and T. R. Brown, of the Delaware station, have been making some thorough investigations into the use of this preservative in milk. They assert their belief that if formaldehyde were used at the rate of one part of the formaldehyde to 40,000 parts of milk the results would not be injurious to the health of the persons using the milk, while the milk would keep two or three times as long, as it would if not treated. The professors do not say so, remarks the Farmer's Review, but the fact is that if milkmen and others are allowed to use formalin at all there is no probability that they will be so exact in their applications of the poison as to use only one part in 40,000. Every milkman cannot afford to hire a chemist or even a pharmacist to carefully figure out the proportions of the formalin to be used in the milk. This is what endangers the life of the public using such milk.

The professors named draw the following conclusions from their investigations:

1. With different milks containing the same quantities of formaldehyde the time of curdling varies within rather wide limits, dependent upon the character of the bacteria in the raw milk and upon slight variations of temperature.
2. With different milks containing different quantities of formaldehyde, the amount of formaldehyde bore no exact relation to the time of curdling.
3. With milk containing one part of formaldehyde to 2,000 parts of milk to one part of formaldehyde to 800 parts of milk there was a rapid decrease of bacteria during the first 24 hours, after which there was a slow decrease, until, by the end of five days, the milk was practically sterile or contained only resistant spores.
4. With milk containing one part of formaldehyde to 5,000 parts of milk there was a rapid reduction of bacteria during the first four to six hours, but continuing throughout the entire 24, after which the bacteria continued to multiply, at first very slowly, then at a very rapid rate.
5. With milk containing one part of formaldehyde to 10,000 parts of milk there was in some cases a slight reduction in numbers during the first 24 hours, followed by a very slow increase, then by a rapid increase. In others there was a very slow increase at the start followed by a very rapid increase.
6. With milk treated with one part of formaldehyde to 20,000 parts of milk there was a slow increase during the first 24 hours, followed by a rapid increase.
7. With the one to 40,000 solution the increase of bacteria was rapid at the start, but not so rapid as in the case of untreated milk.

inch leg in front. Cleats are placed underneath for additional support to the legs. There is also a cleat on the top at the front end to keep the pail from slipping off the stool.

The Stanchion Persists.

In spite of all the preaching that has been done against it, the rigid stanchion still persists. Even some of those that declare against such means of tying cattle continue to use the method. One man that has been preaching against rigid stanchions was asked why he still had it in his barn. He replied: "Oh, I and my cows are old fogies, and we still stick to the stanchion because we don't know any better." That may be his way of getting rid of the question, but the public has not yet heard from the cows in the case. If a man is determined to have a stanchion, it will pay him to put in swing stanchions, which certainly are more humane than the rigid stanchions.

Scours in Calves.

The best remedy for scours in calves is not to have it. Begin preventive treatment with the cow. If she is a persistent milker, milk will naturally remain in the udder all the time. Milk the cow dry and see to it that no milk is left in the udder; this is often a source of poison to the calf. If the calf is attacked when young, it is probably from that source.

The Best Dairy Bull.

When a man gets a good dairy bull there are always lots of neighbors who say: "It's too much money." "There's no steak on his hind quarters." "He's too thin." There is just where they know nothing about dairy breeds. It is not "steak" that is wanted.

BLOATED WITH DROPSY.

The Heart Was Badly Affected When the Patient Began Using Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell, of 415 West Fourth street, Olympia, Wash., says: "For over three years I suffered with a dropsical condition without being aware that it was due to kidney trouble. The early stages were principally back-ache and bearing down pain, but I went along without worrying much until dropsy set in. My feet and ankles swelled up, my hands puffed and became so tense I could hardly close them. I had great difficulty in breathing, and my heart would flutter with the least exertion. I could not walk far without stopping again and again to rest. Since using four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills the bloating has gone down and the feelings of distress have disappeared."

Whine from Henry James.

Henry James, pursuing his theme, "The Speech of American Women," speaks of a group of Boston young women, "all articulating as from sore mouths, all mumbling and whining and vocally limping and shuffling as it were together." He compares, also to its great disadvantage, a school where parents pay so much not to have their boys taught to speak as gentlemen, with one "beyond the sea, in which the proviso that the schoolmaster shall speak as a gentleman is so absolutely vital."

OLD CAPT. CACK'S QUESTION.

Somewhat Pointed, But It Denoted Quick Intelligence.

Pierce Jay, the commissioner of banks of Massachusetts, at the American Bankers' association's convention in St. Louis, advocated a better accounting system.

"But above all," said Mr. Jay, in a discussion of his idea, "we want a thoroughly put down. Systems are good, but intelligence is better, and cashiers and tellers and book-keepers and note clerks we want the same keen, quick intelligence that characterized old Capt. Hiram Cack, of Gloucester."

"Cack lay very ill. One day he got down-hearted, feeling that his case was hopeless."

"I fear, doctor," he said, "there isn't much hope for me."

"Oh, yes, there is," the doctor answered. "Three years ago I was in your condition precisely, and look at me now."

"Cack, intelligent and alert, said quickly:

"What doctor did you have?"

What is Pe-ru-na?

Is it a Catarrh Remedy, or a Tonic, or is it Both?

Some people call Peruna a great tonic. Others refer to Peruna as a great catarrh remedy. Which of these people are right? Is it more proper to call Peruna a catarrh remedy than to call it a tonic?

Our reply is, that Peruna is both a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Indeed, there can be no effectual catarrh remedy that is not also a tonic.

In order to thoroughly relieve any case of catarrh, a remedy must not only have a specific action on the mucous membranes affected by the catarrh, but it must have a general tonic action on the nervous system.

Catarrh, even in persons who are otherwise strong, is a weakened condition of some mucous membrane. There must be something to strengthen the circulation, to give tone to the arteries, and to raise the vital forces.

Perhaps no vegetable remedy in the world has attracted so much attention from medical writers as HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS. The wonderful efficacy of this herb has been recognized many years, and is growing in its hold upon the medical profession.

When joined with CUBEBS and COPAIBA a trio of medical agents is formed in Peruna which constitutes a specific remedy for catarrh that in the present state of medical progress cannot be improved upon. This action, reinforced by such renowned tonics as COLLINSORIA CANADENSIS, CORYDALIS FORMOSA and CEDRON SEED, ought to make this compound an ideal remedy for catarrh in all its stages and locations in the body.

From a theoretical standpoint, therefore, Peruna is beyond criticism. The use of Peruna, confirms this opinion. Numberless testimonials from every quarter of the earth furnish ample evidence that this judgment is not over enthusiastic. When practical experience confirms a well-grounded theory the result is a truth that cannot be shaken.

Prominent Ft. Worth Lawyer Speaks a Good Word For Both

Among the notable visitors attending U. S. Court this week is W. R. Parker, a leading attorney of Ft. Worth, Texas who is accompanied by Mrs. Parker.

Encountered by The News reporter, Mr. Parker was asked his opinion of the town on the occasion of his first visit.

"I am highly pleased with it," said he. "Ada unquestionably has a brilliant future. Situated as it is in a superior agricultural belt, with its railroad facilities and its fine beginning along industrial lines, in the marvelous development coming to the new state Ada is certain to get a lion's share."

"And down Texas way," added Mr. Parker, "your town is known not only through its growing commercial importance; it is also well known as the home of Henry M. Furman, candidate for the United States senate."

"What do the people down there think of Judge Furman?" ventured the reporter.

"Think?" was the response, "they think great heaps of him. Many years ago both Furman and I located in Ft. Worth. I have had many a legal battle with him; sometimes fighting side by side, sometimes sword against sword, but ever with the utmost goodfellowship. I can confidently assert there has never been a lawyer of the Ft. Worth bar more generally admired by his associates than Judge Furman. Not only that, but he was a favorite with the people at large. Whenever the cause of Democracy needed an able advocate, Henry Furman was sent for, and he never failed to respond. And he was ever found on the side of the toiling masses. Ever since I have known him it has been almost a passion with him, the championship of the people's rights as against the avarice of plutocracy."

"I assure you," concluded Mr. Parker, "if Henry Furman wanted office down our way he could get anything he might want. The people believe in him. And Oklahoma needs to send such men to Washington."

Rooster Died of Broken Heart

It might sound fishy and be altogether doubtful were there not a dozen witnesses to the remarkable incident.

At the Walker Hotel a big fine black rooster, on several occasions when chickens were butchered in his presence had made curious demonstrations of grief, sometimes going off and sulking for hours.

This morning when several fowls' necks were wrung in the yard he danced about and clucked over their wriggling forms for a few minutes, then dropped dead. The plain inference is, old Chanticleer died of a broken heart or gizzard.

An ordinance repealing ordinance No. 88 of the city of Ada.

Be it ordained by the city council of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter.

Section. 1. That ordinance number eighty-eight of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., entitled an ordinance relieving lots and other parcels of land from taxation but and the same is hereby repealed.

Section. 2. That this ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication. Passed this 21st day of Jan. 1907.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS.

John T. Conn the New Councilman from the First.

The city fathers met in regular session Monday night.

W. H. Ebey's resignation as alderman from the First ward was submitted and reluctantly accepted. Mr. Ebey, both as a citizen and as a public official, is a man of such ripe ability and tact that his services as a member of the council have been particularly valuable. However, the council in choosing Mr. Ebey's successor acted with marked judgement. John T. Conn, than whom no better man could have been suggested, was unanimously selected. The News appreciates Tram Conn's acceptance of the place.

An old ordinance, number 88, was repealed. This, so that there may be no impediment to the earliest possible taxation of real estate in the city of Ada.

The clearing of the reservoir site was informally discussed. It proved the sense of the council that the work should be done by the city instead of letting it by contract. But this work is entirely in the hands of the committee of which Mr. Timberlake is chairman.

The usual batch of bills was passed upon. No definite action was taken in furtherance of the waterworks improvement. Engineer O'Neil, who has been summoned by wire, is hourly expected.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. BALLOT FOR SENATOR TODAY.

Indications are that Bailey will be Re-elected

Austin, Tex., Jan. 22.—Although the anti-Bailey caucus last night was attended by a large number of members of the Legislature, the indications are strong that Senator Bailey will be re-elected today.

The house debated at length yesterday the resolution introduced by Judge Duncan declaring it to be the sense of the House that the members should individually scatter their votes so as to avoid an election pending the investigation of Senator Bailey. The second reading of this resolution was prevented by a vote of 64 yeas to 47 nays. It is true that the resolution might be called up today in regular order, but the vote on the proposition indicates that a majority of the House is against it.

CHICKASAW LEGISLATURE READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Tishomingo, I. T., Jan. 22.—With the rare forethought and the political acumen that characterizes the educated Indian, Governor D. H. Johnson, last governor of the Chickasaws, and his legislature are holding open their last legal session to meet any emergency that may arise in the last moments of the nation's life. The law provides that this legislature shall meet at a certain time and that it may draw pay for a certain number of days. It does not prevent a recess being taken, the legislature to be reassembled at any time; however, so when the last session was called, the important business was rushed through and the legislature took a recess to await developments. The wisdom of that move is now apparent. After stating to congress what the nation wants, the Chickasaws are waiting to see what they may get, and ready officially to endorse or to remontstrate at any time. Again the constitutional convention of the new state, of which the Chickasaw nation is a very large portion, is now in session and the legislature has agreed to sell the coal lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations to the state for $12,000,000. By being in readiness the legislature can meet to amend or submit a new proposition at any time. The Chickasaws are fearful that the government will take possession of their magnificent properties and rob them after the Chickasaw legislature is no more, and they guard jealously their rapidly diminishing power.

DEMOCRATIC ORATORY AT THE OPERA HOUSE

According to the appointment made, Hon. D. H. Linebaugh of Atoka, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Fourth District, addressed the voters of this community Monday night at the opera house.

He was greeted by a good and attentive audience.

The speaker, as he in masterful manner discussed the issues of the day, was given close attention and at times his hearers were quite demonstrative in their endorsement of his sentiments.

In a most forcible way Mr. Linebaugh elaborated the platform on which he submits his claims to Democracy's arbitrament, and of which the following is a synopsis:

An effective rate bill and the proper regulation of corporations, and abolishment of the free pass evil, and favor declaring all contracts illegal that have the effect of removing manufactured products from the operation of the wholesome laws of normal supply and demand, either as their use and price, or of protection them from free competition in the open markets of the world.

The arbitration of differences between labor and capital and a strict enforcement of the eight hour law on all government work.

The improvement of our water ways, and where practicable, the appropriation by Congress of such funds as may be necessary to make the streams in, and bordering on, this district, navigable.

Publicity in all campaign contributions, and the enactment of laws punishing with imprisonment officers and agents of corporations who are convicted of using corporate funds for political purposes.

A tariff for revenue only.

The removal of all restrictions upon the alienation of all allotments of adult allottees, except upon the homestead of Indians by blood; The sale of all surplus allotments to actual settlers in tracts not exceeding 160 acres to any one purchaser; the acquisition by the State of the segregated coal lands for the benefit of the public school fund with permission for the immediate sale of the surface to actual settlers in tracts not exceeding 160 acres to any one purchaser. The speedy adjustment of all affairs in the country over which the Interior Department has control; the payment of all money to the Indian people in one payment; a graduated income and inheritance tax.

Unalterable opposition to a government by injunction; to every form of extravagance in the expenditure of public funds; to the imperialistic policy of the Republican party and to all arbitrary rules promulgated by any department of the government being enforced against any person without first giving to that person a right to be heard."

Mr. Linebaugh believes that a public office is a public trust and that he who fills it is a servant of the people.

The speaker concluded with a beautiful tribute to the women of the land.

At the conclusion of Mr. Linebaugh's speech there were vociferous calls for Judge Henry M. Furman, who was in the audience. The judge responded with a short address, replete with wit and wisdom, such scarcely anyone except Judge Furman is capable of in an impromptu effort.

The occasion was delightful and edifying throughout.

Ord Rich, Rape Case Is Now On Trial

Tuesday forenoon the U. S. court was engaged in a jury trial of an appealed condemnation suit wherein Mrs. W. E. Little of Stonewall is plaintiff and the M. K. & T. Ry. is defendant. The jury is still out.

In the afternoon the Ord Rich rape case was taken up, and several hours were spent in an unsuccessful attempt to qualify sufficient jurors. Out of the entire panel only one was chosen. Rich stands charged with having about a year and a half ago raped a woman named Mrs. Emily Latta, since deceased.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Irby and U. S. Commissioner T. N. Robinett of Ardmore are here as witnesses in the Ord Rich case.

Memorial Adopted.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 21.—The convention today passed the memorial to Congress which is official notice that the State wishes to purchase the segregated mineral lands of the Choctaws and Chickasaws.

A provision was inserted that the memorial shall not be construed to oppose the sale of the surface separate from the minerals. It is understood here the Indians oppose separating the propositions, whereas, those renters interested in the surface lands are urging some method by which they may acquire homesteads. The convention has remained neutral in the situation.

Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup containing honey and tar is especially appropriate for children, no opiates or poisons of any character. Conforms to the conditions of the National Pure Food and Drug Law, June 30, 1906. For cough, whooping cough, etc. It expels coughs and colds by gently moving the bowels. Guaranteed. G. M. Ramsey, druggist. ml

Guthrie, Jan. 22.—Delegate Weaver of Ada has asked the constitutional convention to adopt a memorial to congress covering the report of the Clark Senatorial committee, which report recommends the removal of restrictions upon the surplus lands of the Indian, and is designed to prevent speculators from controlling large areas of the land so made available for market.

The memorial recites that a great amount of the land is at present controlled by land companies and speculators under the obnoxious lease system, and unless prohibited by congress the combination referred to will create a land monopoly.

Mr. Weaver states the combinations abounding around Ada stand ready to purchase the land now leased as soon as the Indian is permitted to alienate his surplus. The memorial asks congress to restrict the sale of alienated lands so as to prohibit land or lease monopolies by permitting only actual persons to become purchasers or lessees and then only in such limited amounts as will guarantee a broad and equitable distribution of the property.—Dallas News.

WEAVERS MEMORIAL

To the congress of the United States
To the President Theodore Roosevelt.
Whereas, the special senate committee on Indian affairs has recommended the removal of the restrictions upon the alienation of surplus allotments and other lands in the Indian Territory, and

Whereas, the material interest of all the people of the Indian Territory as well as the state at large, depend upon broad and equitable distribution of the landed interest, and,

Whereas, a great amount of said lands are at present controlled by land companies and speculators, under obnoxious lease system, and,

Whereas, unless prohibited by the congress, said land companies and speculators will gain control of a vast amount of Indian lands, which will result in large holdings and land monopolies.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the representatives of the people of the Indian Territory, in convention assembled, do respectfully pray that the sale of alienated lands be restricted so as to prohibit land or lease monopolies, and to permit any natural persons to become purchasers or lessees thereof, and then only of such limited amounts as will guarantee a broad and equitable distribution.

Resolved that a copy of this memorial be forwarded to both houses of congress and the president of the United States.

TWO CENTS MAXIMUM FOR RAILROADS ADOPTED

Guthrie, Jan. 22.—The maximum 2c passenger fare on railroads, exclusive of street cars and interurban lines was yesterday adopted by the convention as a part of the Oklahoma constitution.

An amendment was offered by delegate Ledbetter of Ardmore, and fought through to adoption, giving power to the Railroad commission to exempt from the provisions and operation any road which satisfactorily shows it can not earn a reasonable income upon the money actually invested, if not permitted to charge more than 2c per mile passenger fare.

This amendment, at least, saves the provision from conflict with the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution, and places the ultimate regulation of passenger rates up to the commission. This was the contention of many of the delegates, some of whom opposed any provision of this character in the constitution.

Delegate Williams of Durant, in defending the committee report which proposed a straight maximum rate of 2c per mile on all roads of the state, proposed to have the provision submitted separately with the constitution as the question involved was largely legislative.

He referred to the bill recently introduced in the Texas legislature by Judge Robertson of Austin for 2 1-2 cent per mile, and afforded the statement that the railroads of Texas were not as a whole in the flush condition of those of the two territories. The question of a reduced passenger fare is now under consideration in seven states.

The sense of the committee was largely in favor of a total abolition of railroad passes and gave evidence of supporting the Sequoyah idea as expressed in that constitution. While the provision was passed without a roll call, the vote was almost unanimous.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grow out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

Agricultural Exports.

The calendar year is closing with every indication that the remarkable volume of exports will remain at the flood. A bulletin from the bureau of statistics at Washington is testimony to this effect. The bulletin deals with the exports of domestic broadstuffs, meat and dairy products, food animals, cotton and mineral oils for November and for the 11 months of the present year ended with November. The total of these exports for November was $105,311,000 against $99,341,000 in 1905, and for the 11 months $788,257,000 compared with $703,569,000 last year. The December returns are not likely to show any relative decrease, and the entire year is fairly certain to show a large advance over last. Several features of the bulletin showing command special interest. Though there was something of a falling off in this class of exports for the month, our shipments abroad of meat and dairy products and of food cattle were $208,979,000 in 1906, or more than $20,000,000 in excess of these of the same 11 months of 1905. Legislation by congress and the steps taken by the administration in accordance therewith, aiming at safeguarding the purity of the output, have increased foreign confidence. The figures are of value as proving that while we sell abroad less barley, oats and corn, we are disposing in large quantity of what may be called the finished products from such raw material. The Americans are feeding more of the grain to live stock and selling more cattle and meat to the old world. This is really an economic advantage, as finding a market for the higher valued product always is. The bulletin accentuates the predominance of this country as a source of food supply, while the complete returns are pretty certain to prove that it has been a big year for exports of manufactures also.

Poland's Pitiable Condition.

The situation of Poland today is pitiable. Business in Warsaw has fallen off 50 per cent, and more; the fashionable boulevards are partly deserted; the restaurants are but half filled; and the leading hotel is running at a loss. The city swarms with troops, but martial law brings only oppression, not security. Hardly a day passes but officials are killed or wounded by the terrorists, while suspected persons are arrested, clubbed or shot to death by the authorities. The terrorists are strong enough to defy the government, while the government is strong enough to crush a general revolt, and the result is anarchy. When it will end no one can tell. But some day, says G. H. Blakeslee in the Outlook, peace will surely come, for Poland is to have autonomy. The Poles demand it. The great majority of the Russian Duma has promised it, and Russian liberalism must eventually win.

Romance of Motor Travel.

The motor car has rescued the romance of travel, freeing it from the irritating compulsions and contacts of the railway, the bondage to fixed hours and the beaten track and approach to each town through the area of ugliness and desolation created by the railway itself. With the motor, says Edith Wharton, in Atlantic, we have regained the wonder, the adventure and the novelty which enlivened the way of our posting grand parents; above all, the delight of taking a town unawares, stealing on it by back ways and unchronicled paths, surprising in it some intimate aspect of past time, some silhouette hidden for half a century or more by the ugly mask of railway embankments and the glass and iron bulk of a huge station. Then the villages that one missed and yearned for from the windows of the train—the villages have been given back to us.

Mexico winds up its year with a remarkably satisfactory financial showing. She reports exports of $271,000,000, an increase of nearly $63,000,000 over the preceding year, and imports of $230,651,000, a gain of over $12,000,000. But what is still better is the advance along all the lines of domestic development. Mexico is literally living in peace and plenty, with the most efficient of governments under the wise directing hand of President Diaz. The day of upheavals and factional disorders, resulting in general demoralization, seems to be past forever. Mexico has learned the secret of wise self-government.

London newspapers are paying splendid compliments to the kind of ambassadors America has sent to the mother country when they demand that the government send to Washington a man like James Russell Lowell, Joseph H. Choate or Whitelaw Reid to represent British interests. They seem to think the need of the times is an ambassador from the British to the American nation rather than an envoy of the British government to do business with the American state department.

"ORIGINAL EGGEATING KID."

Joseph Wiggo Defies All Missouri to Equal His Record.

St. Louis.—St. Louis has a man who can eat 25 raw eggs in 60 seconds, and is a famous player of harmonicas. His name is Joseph Wiggo. Until recently he has hidden his light under an egg case. Suddenly he recognized the fact that he was great. So, in order to tell a sporting editor of his varied and vigorous virtues, he sent around a note. Here's the very note, and this is what he wrote: "Dear Sir: Mr. Joseph Wiggo, who is known as the Missouri original eggeating kid. Mr. Joseph Wiggo holds the title at present as the champion raw egg eater of Missouri. Joe Wiggo issues an open challenge to all comers for a purse of $25 to $100 a side bet, that he can put away more raw eggs than any man of his size in Missouri, and every egg that he puts away is retained and swallowed with great relish and without exertion. "Joe is 24 years of age, and is five feet nine inches in height, and 170 pounds in weight, of athletic build and has a pair of lungs like a Belows. Joe Wiggo's record in eating raw eggs is 25 raw eggs in 60 seconds. "Mr. Joseph Wiggo is an active member of the Benton Athletic club of St. Louis, Mo. Joe is known among his friends as the champion strong boy, and he is also known as the North St. Louis most famous mouth harmonica player; he can perform many feats and brilliant effects on the mouth harp; he can play a few special stunts of his ability on the mouth harp with his nose, he can also give various imitations on a Jews harp. Joseph Wiggo is well known in society circles and athletic clubs of St. Louis Mo., where his extraordinary virtues are said to be highly appreciated."

WED RICHES OR STAY SINGLE

Savant Tells College Instructors Plain Living is Drawback.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"If you are a college professor and wish to be successful, marry a rich woman. If that is not possible, do not marry at all. If you do marry for love, and not for money, your family must be small, in keeping with your income." These were some of the radical utterances Prof. Edward Everett Hale, Jr., of Union university, gave vent to at the opening session of the annual convention of the Association of College and Preparatory Schools, held at the Boys' high school, Broad and Green streets. Dealing sarcastically with the subject Prof. Hale said: "The present system of compulsory plain living may produce a race of professors incapable of high thinking. 'The trustees of universities think professors would grow lazy in such a Utopia as a college would be if decent salaries were paid. This is not the case. They would have a chance to take a greater interest in college life and become more valuable if they were not compelled to skimp and save and spend their time doing outside work to earn a living. "Marry a rich wife," he said; "her means will provide you with the time, the books, the accessories of culture and the social setting you need. In the event of not being able to do this, a brilliant solution is not to marry at all, and if you take unto yourself a wife, it is certainly due to all concerned to have as small a family as possible."

GRINDSTONE SAVES THE DAY

In Emergency Linotype Operator Hitches It to His Machine.

Clarksville, Tenn.—An event unique in the history of newspaperdom occurred when the Leaf-Chronicle was issued by the use of a grindstone. The electric wires furnishing power for operating a motor which was used to run the linotype machines were cut out on account of the burning of a building next door, and things looked exceedingly blue for the issuance of a paper unless hand composition was resorted to. Then it was that American ingenuity came to the front. The linotype operator observed a big grindstone downstairs, and his was the bright idea of hitching it to the linotype by a belt. The connection was quickly made, and nothing more was needed but to hitch sufficient muscular energy to the grindstone to keep the outfit moving. Two laborers were secured and set to this task, and the thing was done. The queer-looking device went to work with utmost facility. Its appetite for copy was something phenomenal, and the newswriters aver that never before were they kept in such a rush to supply material.

SOLOMON AS A CANDIDATE.

Professor Says King's Record Would Beat Him for Office Nowadays.

Macon, Mo.—In the course of a lecture on "Honesty," Prof. W. A. Annin, superintendent of the board of public schools, said that, measured by the morals and customs of to-day, David would have been lynched or sent to the penitentiary for a long term of years. Solomon, had he aspired to the senate or any other large representative body, would have been turned down because of his domestic life. The speaker said, however, that it was unfair to judge those illustrious men by later-day standards, and argued that the world was progressing so rapidly toward correct ideals that before long only men of the purest honor and integrity, both in public and private life, would dare to aspire to important positions.

FARMER WILLIAMS' LESSON

In Time of Adversity He Got to Understand Who Were His Real Friends—Prosperity in Standing Together.

(Copyright, 1906, by Alfred C. Clark.) "What y' got there, Sig?" inquired Farmer Williams, as he kicked off his felt boots and set them carefully behind the stove to dry. "That's what I thought it looked like, one of them there Chicago catylogs, though I hadn't seen one clost for quite a few years back. Me an' your ma ust to buy mighty nigh everthing we used out of them catylogs when we first come to Kansas. Land sakes, I have to laugh now sometimes when I think of the way we would get hatched out in awhile. They's some cheap things in them catylogs, an' then again they's a lot o' ain't so cheap. Y' never kin tell till they come, an' then it's too late to send 'em back. But as I was a sayin', we hadn't bought nothin' out of a catylog for a right smart o' years now, an' the way it come about I had as well tell y', cause I don't think y' really remember much about it. "When we come to Kansas long in the first of the '80's we got along right well. We was able to pay cash for what we got, and we got the money for everthing we sold. We was payin' out on the place right along; crops was purty good an' we was a feelin' like the Lord was a smilin' on our efforts, and the happy home we dreamed about when we first got married was in sight. But they come a change in Kansas long in the last half of the '80's. Times got hard and kep' a gittin' tighter. Four straight years it was so dry y' had to soak the hogs afore they'd hold swell—though I will say they was some extry reason on account of the swell bein' so thin—wheat just died in the ground for want of rain, and the hot winds billed the everlasting sap out of the corn. They wasn't no pasture, no nothing. You can know we was a feelin' purty blue about that time, but we was young and strong, and thought with the chickens an' hogs we could git through anyway. "Then one day you got to complainin' and lookin' so thin it worried us. Your ma is a middlin' good doctor, take it all around, but nothin' she could think of done you any good. Well, you kep' a gittin' pindlier and pindlier, till you got so sot y' wouldn't do nothin' but set in a chair by the kitchen stove, wrapped in your ma's old shawl, an' you looked so pitiful that we made up our minds to have the doctor, even if it took th' last chicken on the place. Well, he come, and after he'd looked at you awhile an' felt your pulse, he shet his watch up with a snap, an' says, quiet like: "Better fix up a warm place for her in the front room, don't have too much light nor any drafts to strike her. Then we knowed it wan't no small sickness we had to fight, an' when we got you fixed up in bed I follered Doc out on the porch an' I says: "Well, Doc, sez I, 'what's the matter with our little girl?' "I don't want to skeer yo, Mr. Williams," says he, 'but I'm afraid she's in for a siege of typhoid fever.' "Well, after he was gone I went out in the kitchen an' told your ma, but she says, brave as kin be: 'Well, Ezra, if the Lord has seen fit to put that much more on our load we must bear up an' fight it out our duty the best we kin, leavin' the rest to him.' An' I thought so too. So we jest kep' on. Hearts brave an' done what seemed right t' do. "The hardest thing was to figure out where t' git the medicine, an' fruit, an' dainty things your sickness called for. We hadn't been tradin' much with the stores in Huston, buyin' mostly from the catylog folks y' know, an' so we didn't have any credit there to speak of. But I went t' Foster, th' druggist, an' I told him how things was. I didn't have no money t' pay fer th' medicine an' things, an' the prospects for the next year was as poor er poorer than th' last. "Why cert'lee, Mr. Williams," he says, 'jest let us know what you want an' we'll carry you along till times come better for you. We're all in a tight pinch now, but if we hang t'gether things is all goin' to come out right in the end. I have faith in th' country, an' in the people that live here. An' nobody's sick baby is a goin' to suffer if I kin help any.' "Well, it was the same thing at Harlow's grocery, an' th' coal yard, everywhere in th' town. 'Cert'lee, Mr. Williams, we'll see y' through on this.' It made me feel mean an' small some way, though I don't know why. An' often when they'd put in a few oranges or somethin' like that, sayin' in a 'pologizin' sort of way, 'Little somethin' fer th' sick baby, Williams,' why somehow it made a hard lump come up in my throat, an' I had a queer feelin' in my eyes, kinder sohy like, y' know. "Well, to be short about it, fer eight weeks you kep' a gittin' weaker an' weaker, an' we kep' a feelin' more an' more hopeless. It was a sad Christmas in our home that year. Your ma was jest wore out with watchin' an' tryin' to do her work between times, an' I was so nigh sick with trouble an' discouragement t' I ust to go around by the barn an' jest cry like a baby. But I never let on to your ma though, an' she t' me. We tried t' encourage each other though we knowed in our hearts t' all our cheerful words was lies, an' each one knowed the other knowed it too. "Well, jest th' night before New Years Doc called us outside your room. Oh, how my heart sunk then! I don't want to hold out any false hopes to you people," he says, 'but I think with proper care from now on, your little girl is goin' t' git well.' Elsie, it seemed jest like a ton of hay had been lifted off my chest right there. As fer your ma, why she jest busted down an' cried as hard as she could. After Doc was gone we went out to the kitchen an' kneeled down, right there an' thanked God fer the most glorious New Years gift he ever give t' anybody in th' world—the health of our baby girl. You know your pa ain't no ranter er shouter; yer ma bein' a Baptist has furnished most of th' religion fer our house, but jest then I seen how it was that they come times in people's lives when they've jest got to have somethin' bigger an' greater than anything human t' turn to with a great joy er a great sorrow. "Well, it was a long time yet before you was strong enough t' play out doors, an' it was a hard winter. I burned every post of the fence afore it was over. But it seemed like we had so much t' be thankful fer that we was strong t' care fer any of th' smaller troubles that we come across. "It really hain't so bad to look back at it now after th' trouble is over, but them hard years in Kansas drove nearly all our neighbors t' give up their land an' move away, broke in hopes an' pocketbook. Them of us as stayed is purty well fixed now, but we fit fer everthing we got, an' fit hard, too. An', O, yes, about th' catylogs. Well, after you was well an' things begun t' take a turn fer th' better, one night ma brought out that Chicago book an' laid it on the kitchen table an' says: 'Ezra, what do you want t' do with this?' An' I sez: 'Les burn it.' An' your ma sez: 'Jest what I was thinkin', toq.' An' so we did burn it, an' what's more, we ain't never heard one in th' house since, an' we never send away for anything we can git at any of the stores in Huston, 'cause we want to deal with them as has an intrest in the country we live in, an' in us people that live clost by. "Why, you needn't of put yours in th' stove, too, Elsie, I didn't mean—yes, I don't know but what it's jest as well y' done it after all."

Folk Denounces Mail-Order Idea. Addressing a meeting of retail merchants in Jefferson city recently, Governor Folk, of Missouri, said: "We are proud of our splendid cities, and we want to increase wealth and population, and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up, but we also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do not believe in the mail-order citizen. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and to make his money in, its good enough for him to spend his money in. "No merchant can succeed without advertising in one way or another. Patronize your town papers, build them up, and they will build the town up in increased trade and greater opportunities. Do not be hurt by the business is going to be hurt by the recent exposures of wrong-doing in the commercial world."

FOR THE IDEAL PIE

TOOTHsome DELICACY THAT IS BELOVED BY ALL.

Requisites for Success Are Simple, But They Must Be Carefully Remembered—Knack of the Thing Is What Counts.

The pie belt is not restricted to New England alone. Ask the miner "baching it," in his lonely camp in the Rockies or Sierras, the soldier and sailor boys in distant posts or alien waters, the storm-stayed traveler, 20 miles from a lemon or anything else eatable, what they want most for their dinner, and then chances to one "a big piece of mother's home-made pie" heads the list of mouth-watering possibilities. But there are pies and pies, ranging from gutta percha crusts with vapid, tasteless interiors, to a delicate, flaky, melt-in-your-mouth pie exterior, clasping in tender embrace ambrosia. Which are yours? Pie makers are born, but they can also be made. The first requisite is brains, then a light, quick touch and judgment in seasoning. In the evolution of the ideal pie no great array of implements is required. Glass and marble boards are all right, but just as excellent results may be achieved with a fine hardwood molding board, a thick canvas dredged with flour or even a clean, smooth sheet of manila paper spread smoothly on an ordinary kitchen table. So also with the rolling pin. It is the touch and knack of handling that count—whether the pin be of glass, hardwood or a tall, smooth bottle.

Success in Ironing Shirts. Any of the following named substances when put into boiled starch will help to make the garment iron smoothly and take a gloss: Borax, sugar, salt, wax, lard, turpentine, spermaceti. The shirt front is starched with hot boiled starch in which there has been mixed one or more of the above ingredients. It is dried, and then dipped in thin, raw starch. After a few hours it is ironed. A thin piece of muslin is placed between the starched surface and the iron. After the shirt front has been ironed smooth it is rubbed with a damp cloth, and then polished with an iron specially made for this purpose. There must be a great deal of pressure used on the polishing iron, and practice is required to do this work well. Place a hard, smooth board under the shirt-front when polishing. Many men object to the highly-polished surface, preferring the dull one.

Hard Sauce.

Put into a warm bowl one-quarter cup butter and one-half cup powdered sugar. Mix with a wooden spoon or spatula, beating hard for 15 minutes. Flavor with one-half tablespoonful lemon, vanilla or a little nutmeg or powdered mace, as preferred, beat a 'little longer, pack smoothly on a small plate or pile lightly in a fancy dish, and set on the ice until very hard. A pleasing change is to add a tablespoonful currant jelly after creaming the butter and sugar, then beat light.

Diamond Window Panes.

Many people who live in the modern antique style of house find it difficult to effectually clean and polish the diamond window panes. The following method of doing so will be found to answer. Stir a little kerosene into warm water, soak a pad of newspaper in it, and squeeze almost dry; clean the pane with this, wipe with a soft cloth, and then polish with a pad of dry newspaper.

Skin Disease from Birth—Fortune Spent on Her Without Benefit—Cured Her with Cuticura.

"I have a cousin in Rockingham Co. who once had a skin disease from her birth until she was six years of age. Her father had spent a fortune on her to get her cured and none of the treatments did her any good. Old Dr. C. suggested that he try the Cuticura Remedies which he did. When he commenced to use it the child was almost a solid scab. He had used it about two months and the child was well. I was there when they commenced to use your Cuticura Remedies. I stayed that week and then returned home and stayed two weeks and then went back and stayed with them two weeks longer, and when I went home I could hardly believe she was the same child. Her skin was as soft as a baby's without a scar on it. I have not seen her in seventeen years, but I have heard from her and the last time I heard from her she was well. Mrs. W. P. MANY SOURCES OF SALT.

That from Natural Springs is Generally Most Nearly Pure.

The purity of salt depends upon the source from which it is obtained and the sanitary conditions under which it is prepared for the market. The supply of common salt, the most indispensable of all the seasoning substances both as a relishing condiment and a well-nigh universal food preservative, is exhaustless, yet even so there is salt and salt, says the Floridian Review.

Formerly salt was obtained by evaporating ocean water, a process that left many impurities in the residuum, to say nothing of its exposure to all kinds of dirt in its shipment from seaports. The Turk's island or rock salt, which is still largely used in pork packing and in the manufacture of ice creams, comes to the United States in holds of vessels continually subjected to dirt and foul odors. Upon its arrival it is again handled, then packed in coarse burlap bags, permitting dust to sift into the salt. In this condition it reaches the consumer.

Latterly, however, the product of salt springs has largely taken the lead in this country not only for table salt but for meat packing. The annual production from this source in the United States reaches more than 40,000,000 bushels, the state of New York in the vicinity of Syracuse furnishing a large proportion of this important supply.

NEVER TIRES

Of the Food That Restored Her to Health.

"My food was killing me and I didn't know the cause," writes a Colo. young lady. "For two years I was thin and sickly, suffering from indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism. "I had tried different kinds of diet, plain living, and many of the remedies recommended, but got no better. "Finally, about five weeks ago, mother suggested that I try Grape-Nuts, and I began at once, eating it with a little cream or milk. A change for the better began at once. "To-day I am well and am gaining weight and strength all the time. I've gained 10 lbs. in the last five weeks and do not suffer any more from indigestion and the rheumatism is all gone."

"I know it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. I still eat the food twice a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The flavor of Grape-Nuts is peculiar to itself. It is neutral, not too sweet and has an agreeable, healthful quality that never grows tiresome. One of the sources of rheumatism is from overloading the system with acid material, the result of imperfect digestion and assimilation.

As soon as improper food is abandoned and Grape-Nuts is taken regularly, digestion is made strong, the organs do their work of building up good red blood cells and of carrying away the excess of disease-making material from the system.

The result is a certain and steady return to normal health and mental activity. "There's a reason." Read the little book "The Road to Wellville" is plain.

President Ft. Worth lawyer speaks a Good Word For Both

Among the notable visitors attending U. S. Court this week is W. R. Parker, a leading attorney of Ft. Worth, Texas who is accompanied by Mrs. Parker. Encountered by The News reporter, Mr. Parker was asked his opinion of the town on the occasion of his first visit.

"I am highly pleased with it," said he. "Ada unquestionably has a brilliant future. Situated as it is in a superior agricultural belt, with its railroad facilities and its fine beginning along industrial lines, in the marvelous development coming to the new state Ada is certain to get a lion's share."

"And down Texas way," added Mr. Parker, "your town is known not only through its growing commercial importance; it is also well known as the home of Henry M. Furman, candidate for the United States senate."

"What do the people down there think of Judge Furman?" ventured the reporter.

"Think?" was the response, "they think great heaps of him. Many years ago both Furman and I located in Ft. Worth. I have had many a legal battle with him; sometimes fighting side by side, sometimes sword against sword, but ever with the utmost goodfellowship. I can confidently assert there has never been a lawyer of the Ft. Worth bar more generally admired by his associates than Judge Furman. Not only that, but he was a favorite with the people at large. Whenever the cause of Democracy needed an able advocate, Henry Furman was sent for, and he never failed to respond. And he was ever found on the side of the toiling masses. Ever since I have known him it has been almost a passion with him, the championship of the people's rights as against the avarice of plutocracy."

"I assure you," concluded Mr. Parker, "if Henry Furman wanted office down our way he could get anything he might want. The people believe in him. And Oklahoma needs to send such men to Washington."

Rooster Died of Broken Heart

It might sound fishy and be altogether doubtful were there not a dozen witnesses to the remarkable incident. At the Walker Hotel a big fine black rooster, on several occasions when chickens were butchered in his presence had made curious demonstrations of grief, sometimes going off and sulking for hours.

This morning when several fowls' necks were wrung in the yard he danced about and clucked over their wriggling forms for a few minutes, then dropped dead. The plain inference is, old Chanticleer died of a broken heart or gizzard.

Ordinance No. 122.

An ordinance repealing ordinance No. 88 of the city of Ada. Be it ordained by the city council of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter.

Section. 1. That ordinance number eighty-eight of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., entitled an ordinance relieving lots and other parcels of land from taxation be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section. 2. That this ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication. Passed this 21st. day of Jan. 1907.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS.

John T. Conn the New Councilman from the First.

The city fathers met in regular session Monday night. W. H. Ebey's resignation as alderman from the First ward was submitted and reluctantly accepted. Mr. Ebey, both as a citizen and as a public official, is a man of such ripe ability and tact that his services as a member of the council have been particularly valuable. However, the council in choosing Mr. Ebey's successor acted with marked judgement. John T. Conn, than whom no better man could have been suggested, was unanimously selected. The News appreciates Tram Conn's acceptance of the place.

An old ordinance, number 88, was repealed. This, so that there may be no impediment to the earliest possible taxation of real estate in the city of Ada.

The clearing of the reservoir site was informally discussed. It proved the sense of the council that the work should be done by the city instead of letting it by contract. But this work is entirely in the hands of the committee of which Mr. Timberlake is chairman.

The usual batch of bills was passed upon. No definite action was taken in furtherance of the waterworks improvement. Engineer O'Neil, who has been summoned by wire, is hourly expected.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. BALLOT FOR SENATOR TODAY.

Indications are that Bailey will be Re-elected

Austin, Tex., Jan. 22.—Although the anti-Bailey caucus last night was attended by a large number of members of the Legislature, the indications are strong that Senator Bailey will be re-elected today.

The house debated at length yesterday the resolution introduced by Judge Duncan declaring it to be the sense of the House that the members should individually scatter their votes so as to avoid an election pending the investigation of Senator Bailey. The second reading of this resolution was prevented by a vote of 64 yeas to 47 nays. It is true that the resolution might be called up today in regular order, but the vote on the proposition indicates that a majority of the House is against it.

CHICKASAW LEGISLATURE READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Tishomingo, I. T., Jan. 22.—With the rare forethought and the political acumen that characterizes the educated Indian, Governor D. H. Johnson, last governor of the Chickasaws, and his legislature are holding open their last legal session to meet any emergency that may arise in the last moments of the nation's life. The law provides that this legislature shall meet at a certain time and that it may draw pay for a certain number of days. It does not prevent a recess being taken, the legislature to be reassembled at any time; however, so when the last session was called, the important business was rushed through and the legislature took a recess to await developments. The wisdom of that move is now apparent. After stating to congress what the nation wants, the Chickasaws are waiting to see what they may get, and ready officially to enforce or to remonstrate at any time. Again the constitutional convention of the new state, of which the Chickasaw nation is a very large portion, is now in session and the legislature has agreed to sell the coal lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations to the state for $12,000,000. By being in readiness the legislature can meet to amend or submit a new proposition at any time. The Chickasaws are fearful that the government will take possession of their magnificent properties and rob them after the Chickasaw legislature is no more, and they guard jealously their rapidly diminishing power.

DEMOCRATIC ORATORY AT THE OPERA HOUSE

According to the appointment made, Hon. D. H. Linebaugh of Atoka, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Fourth District, addressed the voters of this community Monday night at the opera house.

He was greeted by a good and attentive audience.

The speaker, as he in masterful manner discussed the issues of the day, was given close attention and at times his hearers were quite demonstrative in their endorsement of his sentiments.

In a most forcible way Mr. Linebaugh elaborated the platform on which he submits his claims to Democracy's arbitrament, and of which the following is a synopsis:

An effective rate bill and the proper regulation of corporations, and abolishment of the free pass evil, and favor declaring all contracts illegal that have the effect of removing manufactured products from the operation of the wholesome laws of normal supply and demand, either as their use and price, or of protection them from free competition in the open markets of the world.

The arbitration of differences between labor and capital and a strict enforcement of the eight hour law on all government work.

The improvement of our water ways, and where practicable, the appropriation by Congress of such funds as may be necessary to make the streams in, and bordering on, this district, navigable.

Publicity in all campaign contributions, and the enactment of laws punishing with imprisonment officers and agents of corporations who are convicted of using corporate funds for political purposes.

A tariff for revenue only.

The removal of all restrictions upon the alienation of all allotments of adult allottees, except upon the homestead of Indians by blood; The sale of all surplus allotments to actual settlers in tracts not exceeding 160 acres to any one purchaser; the acquisition by the State of the segregated coal lands for the benefit of the public school fund with permission for the immediate sale of the surface to actual settlers in tracts not exceeding 160 acres to any one purchaser. The speedy adjustment of all affairs in the country over which the Interior Department has control; the payment of all money to the Indian people in one payment; a graduated income and inheritance tax.

Unalterable opposition to a government by injunction; to every form of extravagance in the expenditure of public funds; to the imperialistic policy of the Republican party and to all arbitrary rules promulgated by any department of the government being enforced against any person without first giving to that person a right to be heard."

Mr. Linebaugh believes that a public office is a public trust and that he who fills it is a servant of the people.

The speaker concluded with a beautiful tribute to the women of the land.

At the conclusion of Mr. Linebaugh's speech there were vociferous calls for Judge Henry M. Furman, who was in the audience. The judge responded with a short address, replete with wit and wisdom, such scarcely anyone except Judge Furman is capable of in an impromptu effort.

The occasion was delightful and edifying throughout.

U. S. COURT GRIND

Ord Rich, Rape Case Case Is Now On Trial

Tuesday forenoon the U. S. court was engaged in a jury trial of an appealed condemnation suit wherein Mrs. W. E. Little of Stonewall is plaintiff and the M. K. & T. Ry. is defendant. The jury is still out.

In the afternoon the Ord Rich rape case was taken up, and several hours were spent in an unsuccessful attempt to qualify sufficient jurors. Out of the entire panel only one was chosen. Rich stands charged with having about a year and a half ago raped a woman named Mrs. Emily Latta, since deceased.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Irby and U. S. Commissioner T. N. Robinett of Ardmore are here as witnesses in the Ord Rich case.

Memorial Adopted.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 21.—The convention today passed the memorial to Congress which is official notice that the State wishes to purchase the segregated mineral lands of the Choctaws and Chickasaws.

A provision was inserted that the memorial shall not be construed to oppose the sale of the surface separate from the minerals. It is understood here the Indians oppose separating the propositions, whereas, those renters interested in the surface lands are urging some method by which they may acquire homesteads. The convention has remained neutral in the situation.

Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup containing honey and tar is especially appropriate for children, no opiates or poisons of any character. Conforms to the conditions of the National Pure Food and Drug Law, June 30, 1906. For cough, whooping cough, etc. It expels coughs and colds by gently moving the bowels. Guaranteed, G. M. Ramsey, druggist.

WEAVER WANTS PROTECTION AGAINST LAND MONOPOLY

Guthrie, Jan. 22.—Delegate Weaver of Ada has asked the constitutional convention to adopt a memorial to congress covering the report of the Clark Senatorial committee, which report recommends the removal of restrictions upon the surplus lands of the Indian, and is designed to prevent speculators from controlling large areas of the land so made available for market.

The memorial recites that a great amount of the land is at present controlled by land companies and speculators under the obnoxious lease system, and unless prohibited by congress the combination referred to will create a land monopoly.

Mr. Weaver states the combinations abounding around Ada stand ready to purchase the land now leased as soon as the Indian is permitted to alienate his surplus. The memorial asks congress to restrict the sale of alienated lands so as to prohibit land or lease monopolies by permitting only actual persons to become purchasers or lessees and then only in such limited amounts as will guarantee a broad and equitable distribution of the property.—Dallas News.

WEAVERS MEMORIAL

To the congress of the United States To the President Theodore Roosevelt. Whereas, the special senate committee on Indian affairs has recommended the removal of the restrictions upon the alienation of surplus allotments and other lands in the Indian Territory, and

Whereas, the material interest of all the people of the Indian Territory as well as the state at large, depend upon broad and equitable distribution of the land interest, and,

Whereas, a great amount of said lands are at present controlled by land companies and speculators, under obnoxious lease system, and,

Whereas, unless prohibited by the congress, said land companies and speculators will gain control of a vast amount of Indian lands, which will result in large holdings and land monopolies.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the representatives of the people of the Indian Territory, in convention assembled, do respectfully pray that the sale of alienated lands be restricted so as to prohibit land or lease monopolies, and to permit any natural persons to become purchasers or lessees thereof, and then only of such limited amounts as will guarantee a broad and equitable distribution.

Resolved that a copy of this memorial be forwarded to both houses of congress and the president of the United States.

TWO CENTS MAXIMUM FOR RAILROADS ADOPTED

Guthrie, Jan. 22.—The maximum 2c passenger fare on railroads, exclusive of street cars and interurban lines was yesterday adopted by the convention as a part of the Oklahoma constitution.

An amendment was offered by delegate Ledbetter of Ardmore, and fought through to adoption, giving power to the Railroad commission to exempt from the provisions and operation any road which satisfactorily shows it can not earn a reasonable income upon the money actually invested, if not permitted to charge more than 2c per mile passenger fare.

This amendment, at least, saves the provision from conflict with the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution, and places the ultimate regulation of passenger rates up to the commission. This was the contention of many of the delegates, some of whom opposed any provision of this character in the constitution.

Delegate Williams of Durant, in defending the committee report which proposed a straight maximum rate of 2c per mile on all roads of the state, proposed to have the provision submitted separately with the constitution as the question involved was largely legislative.

He referred to the bill recently introduced in the Texas legislature by Judge Robertson of Austin for 2 1/2 cent per mile, and afforded the statement that the railroads of Texas were not as a whole in the flush condition of those of the two territories. The question of a reduced passenger fare is now under consideration in seven states.

The sense of the committee was largely in favor of a total abolition of railroad passes and gave evidence of supporting the Sequoyah idea as expressed in that constitution. While the provision was passed without a roll call, the vote was almost unanimous.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the controller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grow out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

Just consider a moment and you will realize how impracticable it is for The News reporter to get all over the town and interview everybody each day.

Besides he has other things to do. If you know of any arrivals or departures, or any other news, phone The News office, or stop the reporter, on the street and tell him.

PRISON FOR ADA AND FURMAN

President F. L. Worth Lawyer Speaks a Good Word For Both

Among the notable visitors attending U. S. Court this week is W. R. Parker, a leading attorney of Ft. Worth, Texas, who is accompanied by Mr. Parker.

Encountered by The News reporter, Mr. Parker was asked his opinion of the town on the occasion of his first visit.

"I am highly pleased with it," said he. "Ada unquestionably has a brilliant future. Situated as it is in a superior agricultural belt, with its railroad facilities and its fine beginning along industrial lines, in the marvelous development coming to the new state Ada is certain to get a lion's share."

"And down Texas way," added Mr. Parker, "your town is known not only through its growing commercial importance; it is also well known as the home of Henry M. Furman, candidate for the United States senate."

"What do the people down there think of Judge Furman?" ventured the reporter.

"Think?" was the response, "they think great heaps of him. Many years ago both Furman and I located in Ft. Worth. I have had many a legal battle with him; sometimes fighting side by side, sometimes sword against sword, but ever with the utmost goodfellowship. I can confidently assert there has never been a lawyer of the Ft. Worth bar more generally admired by his associates than Judge Furman. Not only that, but he was a favorite with the people at large. Whenever the cause of Democracy needed an able advocate, Henry Furman was sent for, and he never failed to respond. And he was ever found on the side of the toiling masses. Ever since I have known him it has been almost a passion with him, the championship of the people's rights as against the avarice of plutocracy."

"I assure you," concluded Mr. Parker, "if Henry Furman wanted office down our way he could get anything he might want. The people believe in him. And Oklahoma needs to send such men to Washington."

Rooster Died of Broken Heart

It might sound fishy and be altogether doubtful were there not a dozen witnesses to the remarkable incident. At the Walker Hotel a big fine black rooster, on several occasions when chickens were butchered in his presence had made curious demonstrations of grief, sometimes going off and sulking for hours.

This morning when several fowls' necks were wrung in the yard he danced about and clucked over their wriggling forms for a few minutes, then dropped dead. The plain inference is, old Chanticleer died of a broken heart or gizzard.

Ordinance No. 122.

An ordinance repealing ordinance No. 88 of the city of Ada. Be it ordained by the city council of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter.

Section. 1. That ordinance number eighty-eight of the City of Ada, Ind. Ter., entitled an ordinance relieving lots and other parcels of land from taxation and the same is hereby repealed.

Section. 2. That this ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication. Passed this 21st. day of Jan. 1907.

J. P. Wood, Mayor.
Jesse Warren, Recorder.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS.

John T. Conn the New Councilman from the First.

The city fathers met in regular session Monday night.

W. H. Ebey's resignation as alderman from the First ward was submitted and reluctantly accepted. Mr. Ebey, both as a citizen and as a public official, is a man of such ripe ability and tact that his services as a member of the council have been particularly valuable. However, the council in choosing Mr. Ebey's successor acted with marked judgement. John T. Conn, than whom no better man could have been suggested, was unanimously selected. The News appreciates Tram Conn's acceptance of the place.

An old ordinance, number 88, was repealed. This, so that there may be no impediment to the earliest possible taxation of real estate in the city of Ada.

The clearing of the reservoir site was informally discussed. It proved the sense of the council that the work should be done by the city instead of letting it by contract. But this work is entirely in the hands of the committee of which Mr. Timberlake is chairman.

The usual batch of bills was passed upon. No definite action was taken in furtherance of the waterworks improvement. Engineer O'Neil, who has been summoned by wire, is hourly expected.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all drug-gists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

BALLOT FOR SENATOR TODAY.

Indications are that Bailey will be Re-elected

Austin, Tex., Jan. 22.—Although the anti-Bailey caucus last night was attended by a large number of members of the Legislature, the indications are strong that Senator Bailey will be re-elected today.

The house debated at length yesterday the resolution introduced by Judge Duncan declaring it to be the sense of the House that the members should individually scatter their votes so as to avoid an election pending the investigation of Senator Bailey. The second reading of this resolution was prevented by a vote of 64 yeas to 47 nays. It is true that the resolution might be called up today in regular order, but the vote on the proposition indicates that a majority of the House is against it.
